Power of Grace: (Program details)

“In any case, most Chinese Christian doesn’t understand the gospel of grace. Sanctification becomes doing better to win the approval from God (sola bootstrappa) or get a bigger reward in heaven. Few understand how to rest in the finished work of Christ and the indicatives of the gospel powering the imperatives of Scripture.”

Saturday 7:30 – 9:30 pm (1.25 hour presentation, followed by Q/A)

- Understanding God’s grace through covenants in the Bible
- Our union with Christ and its significance
- Indicatives of the gospel empower the imperatives of Scripture
- Legalism, Moralism, cheap grace and the Gospel
- Running the performance treadmill vs. living by God’s grace

Sunday 9:30 am – 10:30 am (1 hr presentation)

- Finding grace in the Bible
- Implication of grace in teaching the Bible

Pastor Iho Tree (崔誼厚牧師) was born in Taiwan. He immigrated to US with his parents in 1969. He went through junior high school and high school in a suburb of Washington DC. He has BS degree in Aerospace Engineering and a PhD in Mechanical Engineering from Virginia Tech. He also has a MS in Aerospace Engineering from Iowa State University.

He accepted Christ as his personal Lord and Savior in 1985 while studying for his PhD degree at Virginia Tech. After graduation, he worked as an aerospace engineer in the aerospace defense industry for four years. In 1990, he was called by the Lord into full time preaching ministry. Pastor Tree graduated from Denver Seminary in 1994. After graduation, he pastored Chinese churches in Denver, Phoenix and Washington DC area. He moved to St. Louis in July, 2006 to pursue additional studies at Covenant Theological Seminary <http://www.covenantseminary.edu/>. He finished his Master of Theology (ThM) studies in May, 2008 and is now enrolled in the Doctor of Ministry (DMin) program.
